Lieut. Worden, of the Monitor, can at present see with only one eye, but he can see more with that one than any rebel Commodore. Captain, or Lieutenant can with a pair. If the rebels see him coming with one eye shut, they will be sure to run, thinking he is taking aim

Recent disaster has spread gloom over the land and sorrow sits at our hearthstenes.—Jeff Davis's Proclamation.

And yet our rebels here pretend that all the accounts of Federal victories are fables, and that the Confederate forces are sweeping everything before them.

No cup of coffee was ever better settled than the rebellion will be when Gen. Halleck shall have struck it one grand blow.

The rebel cities and towns are falling like a row of bricks.

The rebellion, like a huge tree, was many years in attaining its growth, but it has been chopped down and will die suddenly.

The rebels should not be allowed to destroy their sugar. But let them "crush" it if they choose.

We trust that our Government will soon have iron steamers that will mind cannon-balls as little as Rabelais's Giant Pantagruel did, who, after a great battle, combed them out of his hair.

Let our brave soldiers "fix bayonet" and then fix the rebels. Gen. McClellan has done what nobody was ever able to do before-silenced some very noisy members of Congress. One half of the rebels are "given over to believe a lie," and the other to tell it.

There are a great many remedies for a sore throat. We are no physicians, but we would suggest to our rebel friends that running away is the best preventive of an apprehended misery of the throat.

Most writers think that a peaceable occupa-tion is better than the life of a soldier, but we have seldom known a more "peaceable occupation" than that of Norfolk and Portsmouth by our troops.

Our military authorities have organized several regiments of sharpshooters to shoot the rebels, and they ought to organize as many regiments of fast ru nners to catch them.

We say to our brave boys near Corinth, give the rebels the bayonet. If they don't like the cold steel, warm it by friction against their

The rebels are in the habit of standing bravely as long as they think there is more safety in standing than running.

Gen. McCiellan says that he will drive the rebels to the wall. But can he drive them to the ditch-that last one?

A good many rebels, who talk volubly about fighting before there was any danger, turn out to be cowards. Their legs run as fast now as their tongues did then.

When our forces took possession of New Orleans, the people there had been so long without seeing gold that they didn't at first know what on earth it was when they did see it. The Mobile Register tries to erow like a game-cock in anticipation of the Federal attack upon that city. But the noise it makes is much more like the scream of a dying hen. All sorts of horses in Tennessce and the Southern part of Kentucky have lately become "Morgan horses."

Though the rebel confederacy has lost its last ram, it is still rampant.

The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser speaks sneeringly of "the appearance of Gen. Mitchell, the Yankee astronomer, on the Southern theater." He certainly seems to be playing a 'star engagement.

The rebel soldiers, though among the filthiest of living creatures, are not hard to take. We have about made up our minds to accept an invitation to deliver a Fourth of July oratien in Richmond. President Lincoln and his Cabinet, we are told, will occupy places upon the platform.

A couple of correspondents, Mr. Wiggins and Mr. Baldwin write us a joint letter, asking us to give them "less Prentice and more news." Well, we are not news, to be sure, but then we are always new.

The Richmond Inquirer computes that it will take Gen. McClellan 30 years to get to that city. We guess that McClellan will soon correct the Inquirer's arithmetic.

Our rebels, who swear there is no Constitution, beg us, the moment they think themselves in danger, to respect that sacred instrument the Constitution. A correspondent asks whether the Federal anaconda "belongs to the army or the navy." They own him in common. He is a joint-snake.

The rebels are turning their attention now less to the production of cotton than to pork King Cotton is dethroned by King Hog. The rebellion doesn't make good times, but the rebels certainly "make good time."

The Chinese, after a long period of well weather, when they have prayed vainly for relief, put their gods out in the rain to see how they like it. For a similar reason, the rebels would do well to cut off the market-supplies of their public functionaries for a few days. The Mobile Register asks indignantly who ther the men of the South "are to be compell ed to submit to the laws of the Union." if they will submit without compulsion.

When our troops arrived at Norfolk, they found bacon selling at 50 cents a pound and eandles at 60-dog-cheap, considering the value of the paper given in payment.

The slaves in the rebel States are undoubt edly running away very fast, but not half so fast as their masters.

All parrots can be taught to talk, but the ones that talk with most emphasis are the Parrot guns.

GOLD AT PITTSBURG LANDING .- A citizen of St Louis, who was recently at Pittsburg Landing, has returned and brought with him a specimen o fine gold dust, taken by him from the bottom o a ravine in the vicinity of the battle-ground of Shiloh. The article, says the Democrat, has been carefully tested, and found to exhibit an extremely fine quality of gold. The City of Baltimore left Liverpool for

New York on the afternoon of the 7th inst. Just es she was ready to get under way, the steamer, as usual, fired her guns as a parting salute, when one of them burst, and the fragments killed two of her passengers, named Leech; they were brothsent ashore by a tug boat that was near the steamer. 107 In the State of Missouri there are 24,632 persons owning 114,931 slaves-an average of little over four and a half each. Douglas county is the only one in the State in which there are no slaves. There are twenty-four counties in which the number of slaves is less than one hundred each, the average being about forty-six.

I A Melbourne despatch of March 25 says the e are rumors of disturbances in New Zealand. One hundred and thirty-three ounces of gold has been shipped since the last mail.

IF It is reported that although the President had no authentic information of Gen. Hunter's order, printed slips of it were sent from Port Royal to politicians in New York. IP President Benson, of Liberia, is in Londou, Canada West, and will soon visit the United States, leaving for Liberia in October or Novem-

The British Bible Society has voted $10,000 to the American, in aid of the diminished receipts of the latter during the present strife between the North and South.

There are so many candidates for the nomination of Governor of Maine, that the Bath Times proposes to publish a list of all who are not candidates.

Southern Exports.—A copy of the New Or-leans Price Current, embracing a summary of the year's business ending March 1, 1862, has been sent to the Navy Department by one of the officers of the Gulf Squadron. It appears from this journal that the exports of cotton from New Orleans for the past year have been eleven thousand bales, against one and a half million bales the previous year. The exports from all the southern ports have been only thirteen thousand bales, against more than two millions the previous year. Exports of tobacco from New Orleans nothing against seventeen thousand hogsheads last year. imports-Specie, nothing, against $12 000,000 the previous year; coffee, 300 bass, against 250,000 bags; salt, nothing, against 500 000 sacks.

There is no denying it, says a Canadian paper, United States people are sometimes mis-represented. Here is the latest, translated from a paper published in Bordeaux. France

"American Trait .- On the 4th of July (inaugurated by Lafayette) there exists a curious custom n America. As the clock strikes 12, every man, boy, and as many women and girls as can, set to work to whistle 'Yankee Doodle,' and which continues for precisely 10 minutes. It may be fairly computed there are 30,000,000 of people sibil lating simultaneously. The effect is very curious.

17 The Lord Mayor of London gave a banquet on the 28th to the officials connected with the Exhibition, foreign ministers, &c. Mr. and Mrs. Adams were present, but among the names of the Commissioners invited we do not find any from the United States. For this apparent slight there can be no excuse, for, if Mr. Holmes was not officially appointed by the Government of the United States, he has been officially recognized by Her Majesty's Commissioners, and has been acting precisely in the same capacity as the Commissioners from other countries.
